BRIEF ABSTRACT OF LETTER.

NOTES AND ORDERS.

SUPERSTITIOUS BARBARITY

Uncivilised humanity is prone to barbarous acts in their ignorant but highly harmful supersitions. Not that they do not feel for their inhuman acts, to appease their Gods or Goddesses, but they, in their pious ignorance and misdirected devotion to the Goddess, are practically dead to any humane consideration. Their superstitious beliefs make them blind to the reasonableness or fairness of their acts, and besides, they dare not go against their long continued practices, lest they should invoke the wrath of their Goddess. Consequently, every year, thousands of innocent, dumb animals are brutally sacrificed to appease this God or that Goddess. Indeed, these Gods and Goddesses must be horrible creatures to be thus pleased. But fortunately, no God or Goddess is such a blood-thirsty brute as we, in our pious but ignorant and harmful superstition, make them to be. On the other other hand, at nothing will the Goddess be more horrified and enraged than at the cold-blood slaughter of her own dear progeny. To Her the civilised man, the stately elephant and the crawling worm—all are the same. And while she bemoans the loss of even the meanest and the lowliest of Her creation, how much more must she be pained at the wholesale slaughter of Her dear, pet ones, and that for the ostensible reason of appeasing Her. Surely, these ignorant acts of ours cannot but invoke the extreme wrath and curse of the Goddess on our heads. And it is pitty that even in this twentieth century, we, Hindus, with all our glorious traditions embodying the noble injunction "Ahimsa Paramo Dhaimah", should still revel in superstitious barbarities at the cost of innocent creatures. We understand why no action has yet been taken up, either by the Government or by the humanitarian public, immediately to put a stop to this most sinful and galling animal slaughter, on that sacred occasion. We make a fervent appeal to all humanitarian workers throughout the province and specially to His Highness' Government to take the necessary steps to save the from the hands of the butchers and effectively put a stop to such things in future. A special request seems to be necessary to the people of Davanagere, who, we are confident, will leave no stone unturned in influencing the ignorant and, may be, highly devotional sacrificers to show their devotion and reverence to the deity in a better and more pious but harmless manner. They must be made to realise that animal sacrifice is most repugnant to Goddess Durga who would surely curse them and their family if they inflicted the slightest pain even to the meanest of Durga's creation. We are more than certain that humanitarian workers will not be wanting in this noble cause and we hope that the fair name of Hinduism will not be tarnished any longer.

The Bd Comrs of the Cuddalore Dt thought at the time (July 1916) that it might be possible in course of time to introduce the practice of limiting the No of animals slaughtered, the animals offered being taken over by the temple in a live state and sold by auction or otherwise, the realisations being credited to the temple. Hence the Marwari group, who is a Jain, and as such carries out in practical life the tenet (अहिंसा परमो धर्मः - अहिंसा सत्यमेव हि देवो) and preaches it to the people exercises far greater and more wholesome influence over the masses than any legal or other action. This is a matter in which practice & precept should be used. It is a matter for gratification that the slaughter of

No further action seems necy. The

"In continuation of this office No.S.C.19/24-25 dated 5th November 1924 on the subject of limiting of animal sacrifices during the jatra of Durgá Devi in the Davangere Taluk, I have the honor to submit herewith the file of vernacular correspondence ending with the Davangere Sub - Division officer's No.S.C.196/23-24 dated 9th November 1924 and to state as follows:--

It is seen from the above that during the previous 2 or 3 jatras the municipality had made needful sanitary arrangements by spreading -- sand &c., on the spot where the animals are slaughtered and screening off the spot from public view by enclosing it with date or bamboo mats.

The devotees of the temple are reported to be unwilling to allow any animals being given over to the temple in a live state for sale by public ~~ex~~ auction or otherwise as suggested in para 3 of Government order No.86/Muz.677-15-4 dated 7th July 1916, but on the advice given to them by a Marwari Guru who visited Davangere some 5 months ago, they are said to have agreed to give up animal sacrifices and to raise funds for the benefit of the temple.

The Dharmadarsis and other towns people have been advising the devotees during Jatras to offer cocoanuts, fruits &c., to the Goddess and to observe the feast in their houses as animal sacrifices on a large scale would not please the deity etc., It is reported that as a result of action thus taken, the slaughter of animals is decreasing from year to year.

Sir,

Adverting to correspondence ending with your letter no. C. 1243 dt 20th December 1924 forwarding a copy of Chitaldrug Dy. Comr's. letter ~~indicating the steps~~ in the matter of ~~taken to decrease the~~ animal slaughter during Durga festival at Davangere, I am directed to over. state it is desirable that every attempt should be made to gradually reduce and ultimately abolish the sacrifice of animals by persuasion and propagandist work.

It is no doubt gratifying to learn that owing to the effort of some of the Dharmadarsis and other leading townspeople there has been an appreciable improvement in this respect in recent years. ~~I am~~ ~~to add that~~ With a view however to watch the progress from year to year it is necessary that correct statistics should be obtained about the no. of animals sacrificed at the jatra every year.

I am accordingly to request that you will be so good as to instruct the Dy. Comr. to obtain the above information in respect of each jatra and submit a report of it to Govt at the close of

List of enclosures.
